Be Ready!
September 10, 2007
BY: Blake Spell

Be Ready

Are you prepared for a fire? Every year house fires kill many people. You shouldn't be one of them. Just remember to plan an escape route, prepare by having fire safety supplies, and practicing your escape with your family.

Having an escape plan is important to you and your family. You need to have a route that possible to do, like a window or a back door. Have a designated place to meet.

Also preparing, is one of the most important things to do. You need to have fire alarms in every room, at least two fire extinguishers, and access to water. Check your fire alarms and change batteries every six months.

Last but not least practice! Practice doing your escape route. If you do not practice you won't know what to do and might get hurt.

Fire safety in your home is an important step for your family's safety. Everyone knowing the planned way out of the house during a fire can save lives, and having practiced the escape route makes it possible during the confusion of a fire. Fire alarms provide an early alert to danger so it possible to get out. Always prepare.